Haute Dog

Every Dog has its Spa Day

You're feeling slightly guilty and for good reason: You've been so preoccupied with your own post-holiday betterment that you've totally been neglecting your dog's wellness! We're not talking about shelter, food and water—wellness is mind, body and soul, and the only way for your best friend to reach doggie nirvana is with a little TLC. Whether it's a day of pampering or a blissful bath, your dog should be living in the lap of luxury, just like you. —KIMBERLY DAVIS
